WHAT

A changemaker is someone who is taking creative action to solve a social problem.

- ASHOKA, CHANGEMAKERS.COM/LEARNING-LAB

WHY

We want to become changemakers because we want to...

- + be informed and active citizens
- + feel confident in our own power and potential to act & make change
- + be aware of the systems and issues that affect our lives
- + communicate to people that their lives have value and that they matter to their communities
- + 'raise the tide' (create positive change) and 'lift all the boats' (impact our family, friends, community and people all over the world)

HOW

In this How to Guide, we're sharing a link to the Ashoka Change Maker Program:

<https://www.changemaking.net>. This resource includes three short films that are each less than 3 minutes as well as 6 easy-to-understand worksheets that highlight valuable tools to help find the root of problems and guide students through the process of becoming a changemaker.
